Practice Managers for Practice Managers

Why did the IGPM start?

- No representative body for practice or PCN managers despite the scope and responsibility of our roles
- Overlooked for the New to Partnership Scheme
- No collective voice with government or policy makers, like NHS England, or with suppliers, like PCSE
- No professional accreditation or public register for managers

IGPM Born in December 2020

AIM: to be recognised as the professional body that represents all managers working within General Practice in the UK

Founding Directors

- Kay Keane - Urban Village Surgery, Manchester
- Robyn Clark - Kingswood Health Centre, Bristol
- Nicola Davies - The Roseland Surgeries, Cornwall

Our promise

- Our leadership majority will always be people working in Practice Management
- We will never be a for profit organisation. Any surplus money will always go back into our membership
- The views of our members will always be the most important part of our constitution
